

The new heavy-duty Blast Armor blasting glove from Allredi was custom designed with the abrasive blasting industry in mind. We know that operators in the field require comfort and dexterity in addition to elevated protection against cut, puncture, and abrasion.

From the premium grade goatskin leather and soft aramid A6-strength lining, to the 3 inch split leather cuff for easy wearing, this glove is changing the game. Sewn-in Kevlar resists sparks and metal shards while providing Impact 2 protection, and the keystone thumb with reinforced thumb webbing ensures comfort, dexterity, and durability.

The added protection from the Blast Armor blasting glove will allow blasters to work safer, but also saving time and money by knowing this glove provides the required protection for most job site tasks. Whether moving hose, filling pots, or positioning equipment, this glove has you protected.
